This is a lengthy paper, but intended to help you get the most out of our time online together. I always imbed a fun “ask” in my Pre-reads and I can tell if you read it when we see each other in the Zoom Room.

The Zoom classroom...

Useful Information for our Zoom webinar...

You have likely been spending too much time in the Zoom Room these past few years. I am going to do everything I can to make us feel like we are all sitting together talking rules... and as those of you who know me know I like to have a lot of laughing and interaction when I teach, so let's all do what we can to make that happen! Just because we are sitting at home doesn't mean this can't be fun, as well as highly educational!

To that end, here are a few thoughts...

- 1) The link to the Zoom meeting is at the beginning of this Pre-read. If you are new to Zoom, simply click the link in the invitation, and your computer will prompt you on what to do. It may need to download Zoom which takes only a few minutes and very few clicks, and is free. This would not be a great seminar to call into on the phone; please find a laptop if at all possible. If new to Zoom, I suggest you start the joining process one hour before the webinar begins to work out any kinks.
- 2) Wear your favorite hat – I am asking everyone to please wear their favorite hat! You will be keeping your cameras on the whole time. You can even have some fun creating a virtual background (in Zoom, lower left next to the camera icon is an up arrow; click that and find virtual background. (Note that it does not work on all computers.)

3) Who am I...

For those who don't know me, I grew up and live in Southport, CT about an hour from New York City with my wife of 37 years, Betsy (who I crew for in our local Wednesday night racing!). I grew up sailing at the Pequot YC (still a member), sailing Blue Jays and Lightnings. I got one of the first Lasers in 1972 (#931) and got as far as #5 in the World in Lasers in 1979. I sailed for Yale and we won the Dinghy National Championship my junior year, and I made the All American Sailing Team both my junior and senior years. I tried for the Olympics in the Soling in 1980 and 1984, and in 1984 we finished second to the team that went on and won the Gold Medal that summer in the Olympic Regatta in Los Angeles.

I took 21 years away from the sport, and when I came back in 2006 I got heavily into match racing. I've now won the U.S. Match Racing Championship 5 times (4 since 2006). I am also a rules expert and am the chairman of the US Sailing Appeals Committee (which is the Supreme Court for the sport of Sailing in the U.S.), and have been the Rules Advisor for teams in the last few America's Cups and for the US Sailing Team at the 2008, 2012, 2021 and 2024 Olympics.

4) Zoom thoughts...

By now you are probably getting pretty good at using Zoom.

Here are some thoughts (especially useful for those who have not used the Zoom platform much)...and don't worry, we'll take a little time at the beginning to make sure you know your way around the Zoom Room!

- a) you will all keep your cameras on the entire time, so be dressed appropriately ;>)

Note: if you want to go "off camera" from time to time for whatever reason, you can simply turn your camera off by clicking the camera icon in the lower left of your screen (computer and iPad). When you do that, your "profile page" will show. If you have not inserted a picture in your profile, then just your name will appear.

BUT, it is really fun to insert a photo (and easy) – just go to your Account page and then Profile. The trick is, it needs to be a small photo, so you may need to downsize your photo size (750 pixels on the height seems to do the trick) – easy to do in Paint on your PC, or Photoshop on your Mac.

- b) there are times you will be UNMUTED (so please do your best to have your area as quiet as possible...thanks) – obviously if your dog starts barking or your phone rings, then please go on mute until it is quiet again.

If you are MUTED and you want to unmute yourself, just click the microphone icon (lower left on your screen, computer or iPad).

c) Throughout the session, I will be encouraging you to jump in and ask your Q's or say "I'm not clear..." just as if we were sitting in the same room. Here's a good way to do it. When you have a question or comment, just say "Hi Dave...this is Mary...I have a question (or whatever)." Then I will say "Hi Mary...great, what's your question?" That way you'll know I heard you and I am listening to you.

d) Another way to jump in is to "Raise your Hand." To do that, you click on your Participants icon on the bottom row of controls (or up top right on an iPad), and there you will have a bunch of options including Raise Hand. When you click on that, it will show up next to your name in the Participants box. I can see those. We will be using those. When I have answered your question, hit the same button to lower your hand. If it is not there, try your Reactions icon.

If for some reason you do not see the "raise hand" button in your Participants or Reactions section, you have to go to your Zoom account page (first page) and click on Settings (a little cogged wheel in the lower left corner) and scroll down to Non-verbal feedback – and turn that switch ON. If you join the meeting 15 minutes early, you can see if you have those buttons, and you'll have time to leave the meeting, turn that switch on, and come back in.

e) I suggest you have a notebook and a pen for taking notes, and a piece of paper handy to write down any questions/confusions that pop into your head or any things I am saying that you don't understand. Then please don't be shy about asking me to address them (most the others will be thankful you did!). A key to getting better at something is to never let a question or an uncertainty go unanswered or unresolved!

f) you will need to know how to toggle back and forth from "Gallery View" to "Speaker View". It is a button called "View" on the upper right of your screen.

"Gallery View" shows everyone's video in equal boxes filling the screen. There are 25 boxes to a screen, so there will be several screens of us. You can toggle from screen to screen using the arrow halfway down on the right or left of the screen.

"Speaker View" makes whomever is speaking fill the screen (you will be viewing the speaker). There are times I will be telling you to switch to "Speaker View", for instance when I am going to go to my whiteboard to move boats around.

Let's all try to be in the Zoom Room fifteen (15) minutes before the start of the webinar so we can get to know each other and work out any bugs anyone may be having, and start on time. And be sure to be wearing what I asked you to wear in the Pre-read above ;>)

See you soon!
