Displacement-Length Ratio shall be calculated using the empty weight in pounds (DISPL LBS) and the length at water line (LWL) of the vessel; both values shall be as noted on the current PHRF certificate. Displacement- Length Ratio shall be calculated as $D/L = (DISPL/2240) / (0.01 * LWL)^3$

#2) - Upwind sail area/displacement ratio greater than 30. Upwind Sail Area-Displacement Ratio shall be calculated using the area, in square feet, of the main plus the fore-triangle area, as determined by the calculations noted below, and the empty weight in pounds (DISPL LBS) of the vessel as noted on the current PHRF certificate. Upwind Sail Area-Displacement Ratio shall be calculated as $SA/D = \text{Sail Area}/(DISPL/2240)^{2/3}$

#3)-Downwind Sail Area-Displacement Ratio greater than 75. Downwind Sail Area-Displacement Ratio shall be calculated using the area, in square feet, of the main, as determined by the calculation noted below, plus the largest spinnaker, as determined by the sailmaker, and the empty weight in pounds (DISPL LBS) of the vessel as noted on the current PHRF certificate. Downwind Sail Area-Displacement Ratio shall be calculated as $SA/D = \text{Sail Area}/(DISPL/2240)^{2/3}$

#4)-A sprit length (TPS) more than 50 percent of J. The sail areas are computed using the fore-triangle area $(I \times J \times 0.5)$ and mainsail area $(P \times E \times 0.5)$ which do not take into account jib overlap or mainsail roach. Dimensions used shall be as noted on the vessel's current PHRF certificate. A worksheet for these calculations may be found in the Junior Big Boat section of the JSA website <https://jsalis.org/about/big-boat-program>.

- c) Each entry must have a fixed and functioning head.

F.8 Operation of Boat

- a) The boat owner or the owner's representative has the final say in matters pertaining to the safety of the crew and the boat. (RRS Fundamental Rule 4)
- b) The advisors shall refrain from assisting the sailors with racing strategies and steering except when a safety issue is involved
- c) If safety is a factor, the Owner or Advisor may take the helm, issue orders, use the engine, or take appropriate action. Any such intervention should be recorded, in detail, in the log. At the very least, such detail shall include the GPS coordinates and time for both the start and finish of the period in which the adult advisor intervenes under this section. Immediately upon finishing, the yacht shall inform the race committee that an owner/advisor intervention has occurred and that there will be a submission. That submission is due in writing the later of noon the day following the start, or 12 hours after finishing, whichever is later. The judges will evaluate the situation to determine if a time adjustment or other penalty is required. Such action will not be grounds for automatic disqualification.

APPENDIX H - SEASON TROPHIES

Season Trophies are awarded for best finishes at JSA events (now scored using a low point method after decades of using a high point method):

The Clinton M. Bell Trophy for ILCA 7, ILCA 6 or Club 420

The Christopher Goodyear Neff Trophy for runner-up in ILCA 7, ILCA 6 or Club 420s

The Thomas W. Fowler, Jr. Trophy for double handed events (Club 420s)

The Ryan J. Weiss Memorial Trophy for RS Feva events

The Optimist season trophy for Optimist events

The Qualifying Events for each JSA Season Trophy are the four championship qualifier regattas for the boat class that are designated in the Rules for JSA Events, and the JSA championship for the boat class.

A skipper must be a Junior Sailor Member of the JSA, be associated with a Member Club, participate in 75% of the boat class Qualifying Events and participate in the boat class Championship Event in order to qualify for the Season Trophies. For any boat class to qualify for scoring in competition for perpetual Season Trophies there must be at least 10 starters for that class in more than 50% of the races sailed. Sailors may qualify as co-skippers for Season Trophies only if they sail together in all their qualifying events as co-skippers.

No competitor who has been penalized for a breach of Racing Rule 2 (Fair Sailing) or warned or penalized for a breach of Racing Rule 69 (Allegations of Gross Misconduct) shall be eligible to compete in any JSA championship event or receive any JSA season trophy during the calendar year of said breach.

A helmsman or crew may compete for the Clinton Bell and Goodyear Neff trophies by sailing in two different classes in qualifying events. The sailor must notify the JSA office prior to a qualifying event if he will be sailing in a class other than his regular class. Regular class is defined as the class in which he entered the first qualifying event. A sailor may sail the events in one of the following combinations: ILCA 7 and 420 or ILCA 6 and 420. A sailor may not switch between the two Laser classes.

For the purpose of awarding season trophies, races will be scored on a high point system. It should be noted that a high point system favors the boats with the larger fleet and that this reflects the desire to award these trophies to the sailors who have beaten the most competitors. One point is awarded for finishing and one point for each starting boat defeated. A boat withdrawing, not finishing, disqualified, or not participating shall be scored zero points for that race. Individual scores will be determined by dividing the total number of points a sailor receives in their best 75% of the boat class Qualifying Events and 130% of the total number of points a sailor receives in their boat class Championship event by the maximum number of points that the sailor could have received in each of the races in which the sailor participated. The resulting percentage shall be figured to three decimal places. In case of a tie, the sailor that has won the greatest number of first places shall be awarded the place tied for and the other sailor the next succeeding place. If the tied sailors have an equal number of firsts, then seconds, thirds, etc., and the finish positions at the boat class Championship, shall be taken into consideration in breaking the tie. No special race, in which all participants are not allowed to participate, will be used in computing scores for the Qualifying Events.
